Stirling Girl Wed In Lethbridge

The Lethbridge L.D.S. church was the scene of a quiet wedding when Colleen Lucille LePard, second daughter of Mrs. Mike Bodnaruk, became the bride of Donald McLain of Lethbridge. President O.W. Ursenback officiated.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of traditional white satin and carried a bouquet of roses and white carnations. Her floor-length veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. Her attendants were her sister, Gwen LePard, as maid of honor and Mary Cholok as bridesmaid. They wore gowns of pink and blue taffeta respectively with matching shoulder veils. Each carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums. The groom was supported by his brother.

Later in the evening a reception was held in the Stirling Ward Amusement hall which was beautifully decorated with pink, white and blue streamers and silver wedding bells. Receiving the guests with the bridal party were the parents of the bride and groom. Mrs. Virginia Peterson took charge of the guest book while Mrs. Ann Nelson displayed the many

WORKING TO STAND STILL

By Joseph Lister Rutledge

Possibly the favorite way of justifying extravagance, certainly the favorite governmental way, is to urge that it makes work for someone. From that simple approach fires and hurricanes and pestilences must be blessing in disguise for they provide work for many people. Or it might be argued that just in one farmers wheat was a real gain because it made for a greater demand for other wheat. Governments and politicians are quick to sense the easy appeal of make-work-effort—the building of unnecessary roads, the holding of unnecessary elections, the imposition of unnecessary taxation. It is easy to mistake the flurry of resulting activity as the evidence of prosperity. The flaw in this argument is that occupation that is only provided by loss of occupation elsewhere, represents no net gain. It is the economic equivalent of standing still.

The classic argument that putting money into peoples hand by governmental beneficence puts more money in circulation is very dubious indeed. The money for these benefits must first be withdrawn from the public. Hence, some of the public have less money, some just the same, some more but, in the end it is just the same money. It is only the people who do the spending who differ. It is quite possible that money is withdrawn from hands that would have used it constructively, to create and expand enterprise, and put into hands that will merely spend it. In the one case the effects are progressively apparent and continuing beneficial, in the other they quickly disappear.

carpenters and bricklayers and plumbers and all associated industries and trades that serve them. But, when the work was completed, there were no more houses than there had been before the storm. All this had to be paid by the householder, so the thousands thus spent could not be used to improve a garden and give work to a gardener, or to purchase a new car and so help industry, or take a long dreamed of trip to the benefit of transportation workers.

Sewer Now Operating

The good news that most of us have been awaiting has come at last. Yes, the disposal plant of the new sewer system is now completed and operating. Anyone having their sewer connections in may now start using this new facility.

The work on the sewer is rapidly finishing up and well over a hundred connections have been run in to the property line.

The marvelous fall weather has been in favor of the contracting firm of Berger and Sons, in getting this work done.

October Wedding

A pretty church wedding took place on Monday at 5 o'clock in the 3rd Ward Relief Society room when Evelyn, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson became the bride of Raymond Leslie Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson of Lethbridge. The young bride was lovely in a gown of ivory satin fashioned on princess lines, the full skirt caught up with white net flowers, her veil was finger tip length and was held in place by tiny white flowers.

Her bridal bouquet was of pink carnations with mauve orchid centre. Miss Dolores McMullin as maid of honor, was gown in pink, the sisters of the bride, Lucille and Alene Thompson, as bridesmaids were in mauve and blue and all wore matching chapel veils and carried bouquets of carnations. The groom was supported by his brother Cecil of Lethbridge. Ushers were cousin of the bride, Gordon and Dick Boden. Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Robinson, mothers of the young couple chose black gowns with matching corsages.

During the signing of the register Joseph McLean "Always" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Emma Dahl. A supper was served immediately after the ceremony and serviettes included the Misses Mildred Wright, Melba Attwood, Margaret Greep, Dorothy Flexhaug and Lorraine Shaw.

CRISIS AND R.C.A.F.

The crisis in Berlin over the Soviet Union blockade of the German capital and the determined, heroic air service by Britain and United States, which has reached the United Nations Security Council, has been the subject of much talk backstage in Ottawa where it is believed that some new decision by Canada in regard to possible participation by the R.C.A.F. may be forthcoming later. What this decision will be may depend on the developments at the United Nations meeting in Paris and whether or not this air service will be expanded. It is forecast by observers here that these two factors may determine Canada's new stand on the air lift.

Provide shelter for rubber tired machinery if possible, and at the same time set up the machine on blocks to take the weight off the rubber mounted wheels. Where storage space is not available for the whole implement, remove the wheels and put them under cover. If wheels cannot be removed without a great deal of trouble, it pays to cover the tires with canvas or a tarpaper. All belts and rubber parts should be removed and placed under dry cover.

The seed drill box should be cleanedout thoroughly before storing for winter. The feed cups and drive mechanism rust and get out of shape if exposed to moisture. If the drill is to be kept outside with the box with tarpaper or canvas. Fertilizer attachments must also be thoroughly cleaned. When commercial fertilizer becomes wet the water joins with chemicals in the fertilizer to form acid. The acid eats away at the metal parts and before long they are ruined.

Shearing and cutting edges such as those on plow shares, mouldboards, cultivator shovels and disc blades should be well cleaned and a coating of grease applied. If you run your single disc or one-way up on planks the disc blades will be kept out of the ground and rust and corrosion of the edges prevented.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holland are Mr. Hollands mother and his sister Mrs. Palmer, both of Carleton. Also spending Thanksgiving at home was their daughter Miss Margaret Holland, employed at Calgary.

FABULOUS PROFITS IN RADIO FIELD

From The People's Weekly Washington—The air waves are supposed to belong to the people but the big profits from the waves go into a few pockets. Examples were given recently in a news report.

"American Broadcasting Company" says, "has picked up two additional sponsors who will pay $3.5 million for time alone."

"Pillsbury Mills will pay $2 million for Kay Kyser's college program, one-half hour five times a week, and the Galen Drake show, 15 minutes a day, Monday through Friday."

"Proctor and Gamble will foot a $1.5 million bill for a 15 minute radio show 5 times a week."

Added up, this means one radio "chain" and far from the biggest, gets 3.5 million for just five hours of "time" a week on the people's air waves.
